Pepi's Wedel Weeks

Experience the Austrian skiing tradition

December 2011 & January 2012
Vail, Colorado

What are Pepi's Wedel Weeks?

Pepi Gramshammer first introduced Wedel Weeks in 1985, which has since been a very successful ski training program in the Austrian tradition. The term "wedel" refers to a type of short, stylized ski turn. The aim of Pepi's Wedel Weeks is to get each person in shape for the coming season by working hard on the technique of intermediate through advanced skiers. The program is run by Pepi Gramshammer along with some of Vail's finest ski instructors. It brings people together with other energetic and serious skiers for a week of strong ski instruction and social activities.

About Pepi...

Pepi was a member of the Austrian National Ski Team and Professional Ski Racers Association, and winner of many international and professional ski races. He is and was a certified Austrian and Rocky Mountain instructor, coach of several international teams, and director of Red Lodge International Summer Ski Racing Camp.
